Issue 52 - Skolepenger

Increase school fees as a result of the new funding model for private schools .

Private schools across Norway, as well as in Trondheim, have increased school fees from this school year. This is due to the new funding model that was implemented in the fall 2024, and is to be fully implemented in 2028. This is a significant reduction for private schools. In addition, the general price index and salaries also a contributing factor.

Decision:

 The Board approved the suggestion to increase school fees from January 2025, due to the reductions in the new funding model. Parents will be informed immediately.
